

KHS Job Fair 2019

On April 4th, I had the privilege of attending and presenting at the Kanab High School Career Day & Job Fair. The event helped high school students from Kanab, Valley and Fredonia explore career options and interact with professionals in their respective fields. The district presented on the education profession where compensation, job expectations, and university requirements were discussed with students who had an interest in becoming a teacher. As we discussed in the breakout sessions, the demand for teachers exceeds the number of teachers available to fill positions, which increases salaries and allows for prospective teachers to select the areas where they would like to teach. The event was well attended by the students with productive question and answer sessions in each of the presentations, which in turn helps students decide on a career pathway. I would personally like to thank all of the business, military, and universities for attending the job fair with a special thanks to Lisa Livingston for organizing the informative event. As a district, we are committed to parents and to the students to educate every child and prepare them for College and Career Readiness.
